Notes:

1. Several tracts were split in 2010, noted in table with multiple tract numbers in selected rows. The split tracts are re-combined in the table for 2010 to create consistent geography between 2000 and 2010, allowing measurement of population change.
2. Tracts 66 through 71 were created in 2010, the result of combining several tracts that existed in 2000.
